Educational Outreach

In January, Yale University will host 1,300 student delegates from high schools around the country and the world for the annual Model United Nations conference. This four-day program, coordinated by Yale undergraduates, is part of Yale's outreach to the wider community. Close to 10,000 local schoolchildren come to Yale every year for enrichment programs that range across the arts and sciences.
